On Thursday, March 7th, Suring School Art Students held an art exhibit in the Library from 4:30 to 6:00 PM. There were refreshments served in the Learning Center by the High School Students. There were approximately 135 people in attendance. The art is still on display in the library through the end of March. Below is some of the art that was on display.

“A library outranks any other thing a community can do to benefit its people. It is a never failing spring in the desert.” ~Dale Carnegie~
